Concept and Plan of Monthly Web-lecture Series, 2021:

Amidst the Covid-19 pandemic when the entire academic community is struggling to make sense of the crisis that has hit teaching-learning process across the world and carving out alternative means to reach out to their intellectual collaborators, we, at the Department of Sociology, are making a humble effort, like our fellow collaborators elsewhere, to generate meaningful dialogue with our students and interlocutors, beyond limited curriculum-based learning. Towards this end, the Department of Sociology is organizing a Monthly Web-lecture Series, with at least one online lecture by scholars and colleagues from the discipline of sociology and other social sciences, who have made or are in the process of significantly contributing to sociological and social science research.

These lectures will address substantive components of the U.G. curriculum and also open up avenues for thinking beyond classroom instruction and examination system to engage new ideas and possibilities.

The Fourth Web-lecture of the Monthly Web-lecture Series will take place on 06.12.2021 (Monday, at 5.00. pm). This time we are glad to have with us, Dr. Amrita Dey, who will enlighten us on the various methodological issues of Weber's Sociology and Smt. Shamayeeta Ghosh, who will ruminate on the overlooked question of distinctiveness of Sociological perspective. We sincerely hope that these lectures will be of interest/help to the students of B.A. (particularly the students of Semester I for whom both the lectures combined will serve as induction/orientation lectures) and M.A. program, research scholars and faculty members of social sciences and humanities departments across institutions of higher learning under different Universities.
