Objectives of the Programme:

The Campus Cleaning Activity at Singat Rural Hospital organized by the NSS unit-I of the college provides opportunities to all the volunteers to participate in the cleanliness drive by spreading awareness to the hospital authorities, doctors, nurses, staffs and other surrounding local communities about the significance of living in a pollution free clean hygienic environment.

The Campus Cleaning Activity held at Singat Rural Hospital on 21.09.2022, made the family members of the patients, local villagers and the people working in the hospital realize the important issues like

1. Ill effects of unhygienic living 2. Occurrence of various infectious and bacteria related diseases 3. Significance of daily cleaning our nearby living areas 4. How to take initiatives to keep the surrounding campus, village neighbourhood clean 5. Making common people conscious about not littering public places and roads.

Proceedings of the Programme

- Name of the Programme: THE CAMPUS CLEANING ACTIVITY
- Date: 21-09-2022
- Time: 2pm onwards
- Venue: Singat Gramin Hospital
- Organizers of the Programme: NSS Unit of the college
- Brief Summary of the Programme: On 21/09/2022, the NSS Unit-1 volunteers of Government General Degree College Mangalkote actively conducted the cleanliness drive in the Singat Hospital campus. The main objective of the programme was to provide a hygienic clean pollution free environment for the patients who are continuously visiting the Hospital for health issues. Hence through this act general awareness was spread to the local villagers and hospital staff on how to maintain clean campus. The activity started by explaining the hospital authorities, patients and the other workers about the harmful effects of living in polluted areas as it can lead to various kinds of diseases and thus the need for cleaning the campus on a regular basis. The volunteers enthusiastically cleaned the open drains and sprinkled bleaching powder and phenyl. The volunteers also participated in cleaning the campus with brooms to accumulate the waste materials at one place and then disposing them to the suitable bins. The necessity of regular cleaning of drains and garbage was also discussed thoroughly with the hospital authorities as it is their responsibility to see that their own campus is kept clean so that people can work in hygienic environment and patients do not get infected further with any kind of severe and fatal disease.

Participants: Enthusiastic NSS volunteers of the college participated in the cleanliness programme under the leadership of the NSS Programme Officer, Mr. Aritra Rudra, Assistant Professor of History, Mr. Hirak Kumar Sinha Mahapatra, Assistant Professor of History, and other teachers of the college. Hospital authorities, doctors, nurses, staff and the inhabitants of the nearby local village.

Result of the Programme: The hospital officials and other workers participated actively in the cleanliness mission and ensured to help in their own way to keep their campus clean and green, their household, their village and the surrounding places also clean throughout the year by not littering and throwing garbage waste randomly in public places.

Conclusion: The Campus Cleaning programme of the NSS emphasizes the role of the youth in acquiring knowledge about the significance of living in clean environment. Through this extensive activity, the NSS Unit has gained great experiences about understanding as well as spreading awareness on the impact of pollution and how it can be controlled and reduced if common people and the next generation comes together and joins hand in making our environment pollution-free zone which will eventually benefit the overall well-being of the people at large.
